30 miles north of London, 5 miles south of Hitchin, ½ mile north of Whitwell village, on B651

From London and the south (see Map A) NB motorway A1(M) is not the same as M1

Take the A1(M) north to junction 6, A1000, signed Welwyn (not Welwyn Garden City). Skirt round Welwyn, over several roundabouts, then pick up signs towards Codicote and Hitchin. Take B656 towards Hitchin, go through the village of Codicote. The far side of Codicote turn left along a lane to Whitwell. After about 2 miles you reach Whitwell. Turn right on B651, signed Hitchin. After ¼ mile there is a set of unmarked white gates on your left with a straight drive up to the Bury. A little further on is the main entrance on the left, through white gates next to a lodge, and up drive to the Bury.

From west via M25

Leave the M25 at St Albans, exit for A405. Take A405 towards Hatfield, which is on the A1(M). When you reach the A1(M) continue as above.

From east via M25

Leave M25 at junction with A1(M) and continue north towards Hatfield, then as above.

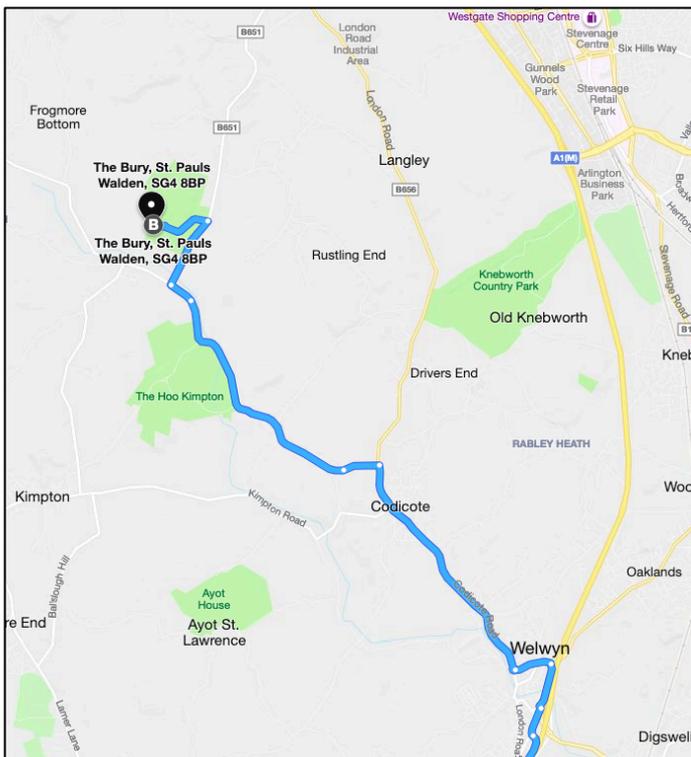

From the north (see Map B)

Take the A1(M) south to junction 8, follow road into Hitchin to a large roundabout. Turn left onto B656 towards Codicote and Welwyn. After 2 miles turn right to Whitwell and St Paul's Walden, along B651. After another 2 miles you reach St Paul's Walden. Pass the Strathmore Arms pub on your right, and ½ mile on, just beyond a bend in the road, turn right through white gates, next to a house, and up drive to the Bury.

By public transport

Take a train to Hitchin. There are frequent trains from London Kings Cross or from the north. It is best to then take a taxi, about 6 miles, but there is an occasional bus from Hitchin, the 304 to St Albans. You should alight at St Paul's Walden, walk up to church then left down a track to meet our drive.
